Be consistent with the Time Out Spot

No matter how good your baby may be, they grow into a toddler with opinions who is difficult to handle. Time-outs are an option for many parents.

We started time-outs at 13 months. I wasn't really sure where to put my son for his time outs - we moved around a lot: the bottom of the stairs (didn't work, he'd just turn around and crawl up), the sofa chair in our living room (he thought it was fun) and finally settled on a chair in the kitchen. The key is to finding one spot and being consistent with it. Which makes the Time Out Spot a good purchase for those looking for somewhere to do their time outs.

You can pick a place and lay down the rug. Time Out Spot recommends time outs from ages 18 months plus, and one minute for each year your child's age. (1 year/1 minute, 2 years/2 minutes, etc.)

Time Out Spots are $22 each - you can pick round or square, pink or blue. Use coupon code "mommieswithstyle" for 10% off.
